Introduction

Welcome to the ACTIVE Research Program Online Launch Symposium!

This event marks the official opening of the ACTIVE Program, aiming to foster mutual understanding between Australian and Chinese institutions specializing in sports studies.

Our goal is to provide a platform for communication, exchange, teaching, learning, and research cooperations.

This symposium will feature representatives from leading universities in both countries, who will share their institutions' achievements in teaching, research, and athletic performance.

There will be opportunities to engage with representatives, participate in interactive Q&A sessions, and discuss study and exchange opportunities. Please refer to the ACTIVE Program website for more information: <https://activeprogram.org>
